REPORT OF BIBLE SOCIETY

Your Board has received 66 per cent. of the assessment for the American Bible Society.

Your Board recommends that each pastor act as agent for the American Bible Society in his charge.

J. B. WELDON, Chairman,

R. R. DOYLE, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CHRISTIAN LITERATURE

The press is one of the most potent agencies of modern civilization. It should mold public opinion, rather than reflect it. The pulpit and the press should form a mighty alliance for the dissemination of truth. At last the Church is beginning to realize the vast possibilities of the press.

The Methodist Episcopal Church, South, is now producing a literature second to none. Our Sunday school literature is noted far and wide for its high standard of excellence. Your committee would also call attention to the superior character of the connectional periodicals of our Church. "The Christian Advocate," published at Nashville, touches the high-water mark as a family periodical. "The Methodist Quarterly Review" carries in every issue a series of remarkably strong articles. "The Epworth Era" has never been a better publication than at present. "The Missionary Voice" is indispensable.

We call especial attention to the following tracts authorized by the Board of Managers of Tracts and Evangelical Literature of our Church:

- "Poison in Present-day Literature," by Mary Helm, per hundred..... 75c.
 "Why Delay Your Salvation?" per hundred...... 50c.
- "What the Adult Applicant for Church Membership Should Know,"
- by J. E. Tate, per hundred______85c.
- "The Lord's Supper," by J. F. Archer, per hundred_____ 50c.
- "Methodism," by E. V. Cox, per hundred $1.00 "Can We Fall From Grace?" by T. L. Hulse, per hundred 75c.
- "Baptism as Jesus Understood It," by T. L. Hulse, per hundred____ 75c.
- "The Church and Its Sacraments," by E. B. Chappell, per hundred__ 10.00
- "Pros and Cons of Christian Science," by C. R. Brown, per hundred 75c.
- "The Resurrection," by J. A. Brown, per hundred_____All of these Tracts may be ordered from our Publishing House.

Our own Conference organ, "The Southern Christian Advocate," has had a successful year. Had it not been for the burden of the debt upon the plant, the manager would have been able to report an income considerably above the expenses. Our thanks are due Dr. R. E. Stackhouse, the Editor, and Rev. J. H. Noland, Manager, for their efficient service.

We make the following recommendations:

- 1. That an assessment of $3,000.00 be made upon the Conference for the Advocate.
- 2. That the month of February be set apart as a time for giving our people an opportunity to make a free-will offering for the purpose of relieving the indebtedness upon the Advocate's equipment.
- 3. We recommend the placing of the Advocate in the local Church Budget as the best system of putting the paper in the homes of our people.
- 4. We respectfully ask that the sum of $100.00 be included in the Conference Budget for the use of this Board.
- 5. We respectfully ask the Presiding Bishop to appoint the Rev. J. Hubert Noland as Manager of "The Southern Christian Advocate."

Respectfully submitted,

WATSON B. DUNCAN, Chairman.

REPORT OF CLEMSON AND WINTHROP COLLEGE COMMISSION

Your Commission desires to explain to the Conferences why it did not carry out their orders to put on the "Clemson and Winthrop College Sunday," which had been fixed for the second and ninth of April, inclusive. This was due to the fact that the Centenary Movement had announced a "Pay-Up Week" just about this time, and the chairman of this Commission was asked to postpone the call for the colleges.

Therefore, your Commission will ask that the Conferences now fix April 3-10, 1923, as the time to carry out the above order.

Your Commission desires to inform the Conferences that it has made a supplementary request to the General Board of Church Extension through the Joint Commission, for $20,000 for each Clemson and Winthrop Colleges. This request is based upon the fact that at the time we made our original request, the General Board did not have available the funds which were turned over to it by the War Work Commission.

While our work has been unduly delayed, we feel that before the end of another Conference year we will have learned definitely what amount we may expect from the General Board and will have received from the congregations of the State their freewill offerings, and perhaps will have been able to begin work on the above undertakings.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN C. ROPER,

Chairman.

A. E. DRIGGERS, Secretary for the Commission.

REPORT OF BOARD OF EDUCATION—NO. 1.

We, the Board of Education of the South Carolina Annual Conference, have received a communication from the Board of Education, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of which the following excerpts contain the salient facts therein called to our attention:

"So far as the educational work of the Church is concerned, the quadrennium through which we have just passed has been the most eventful and most significant in our history. The institutions themselves have been drawn close together. They have unitedly reached a new high level of loyalty to the Church and to her ideals. The hearts of the membership of the Church have been turned toward the institutions in prayer, in sympathy and in financial support."

"We are standing now on the threshold of a new quadrennium. Most profoundly do we thank God for the blessings and successes of the past. With faith and courage and hope in our hearts, we now turn our faces to the future. We go forward in the confidence that God will enable His Church to complete the unfinished task which has been committed to her."

General Conference Assessment.

"Of the total assessment laid upon the Church by the General Conference for all connectional claims, $55,218.86 has been apportioned to the South Carolina Conference. Of this amount, .0540 is for General Conference Education, and .0385 is for the two theological schools. The assessments for Education and for the schools of theology will be apportioned, along with all the other General Conference assessments, to the several Presiding Elders' districts. The amount allotted to each district will then be apportioned by the district stewards to the several pastoral charges."

Religious Education.

"The last General Conference committed the Church to an advanced position relative to Religious Education whereby definite effort shall be made to introduce courses of moral and religious instruction in all the schools and colleges under the control of the State."

Life Service.

"The noble and unprecedented response of our young people to the Life Service call in the Christian Education Movement still rejoices the heart of the Church. Some 5,400 names of volunteers have been received by the Life Service Department of the Board, and new names continue to come in regularly. The objective set in this department of the campaign has thus been reached. Here is our army for tomorrow."

Christian Education Movement.

The Christian Education Movement, through the faithful leadership of Presiding Elders and pastors, yielded rich and abiding spiritual results in the life of the Church. The quickening of the sacrificial spirit of our people is largely responsible for the many tokens of spiritual awakening.

Though the movement was overtaken in its crucial days by the most disastrous economic depression the South has known since the Civil War, the amount subscribed for Christian Education in the canvass reached nearly $17,500,000. Other amounts given and subscribed during the quadrennium swelled the total amount to nearly $24,000,000.00. This is undoubtedly the most remarkable expression of Christian liberality ever registered in the history of Methodism.

Your Conference quota was $1,202,000.

The amount subscribed was $512,127.

The amount paid to date on directed and undirected gifts is $63,788.08.

A sacred privilege, and the first duty of the Church, in relation to Christian Education, is to pay these pledges as they fall due, and thus save to the Church our institutions of learning which stand solidly for that type of education which alone can produce the leadership needed in the world today.

Only as we maintain a strong program of Christian Education can we hope to hold a place of pre-eminent leadership in the tempestuous days which are upon us.

Respectfully submitted,

G. T. HARMON, Chairman,

G. P. WATSON, Secretary.

Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and special evangelistic services, combined with and re-enforced by the work of genuinely Christian teachers, are a guarantee that all human effort is concentrated upon the one purpose of producing men and women whose character and influence shall be a benediction upon every phase of life: Home, Society and Church. We glorify God for the success which has attended our efforts, and plead with Him for a greater baptism of the Holy Spirit's power to the end that redeemed souls may shine with all the splendor of Divine light.

EPWORTH LEAGUE BOARD

Your Board begs leave to submit the following:

We note with pleasure the great increase in the number of Epworth Leagues during the past year. An increase of 65 per cent. in chapters—from 69 to 106—in membership a little more than 60 per cent—from 2,612 to 4,576, and in contributions almost 59 per cent—from $2,641, to $4,576.

REPORT OF EPWORTH ORPHANAGE

In transmitting herewith the report of Brother W. D. Roberts, Superintendent, which covers very fully the work of Epworth Orphanage for the year past, I wish most earnestly to impress upon the members of both Conferences in South Carolina the importance and the urgent need of systematic work on the part of every preacher and Church in the interest of the boys and girls who are entrusted to our care.

If in each charge one thoroughly interested worker is appointed to bring regularly to the attention of the members of the Church the needs and the necessities of the Orphanage, we will have little difficulty in carrying on this great work which we have undertaken, and which, up to the present time, has been so admirably accomplished.

The financial condition of the State has caused most of those who have always been generous, to lessen their gifts; interest due upon many of our mortgages is past due, and we must have the support of every preacher and Church to enable us to maintain the work in hand. It will never do in a State which expends a million dollars each month for gasoline, to permit its orphans to suffer for support in a way creditable to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Let me, therefore, earnestly ask that this situation be not lightly passed over, but I urge that every member take to heart the needs and see to it that the children who must have our care and attention are properly provided for, and I ask our Bishop to add the strength of his voice and influence in interesting the members of both Conferences to thoroughly organize the work in behalf of Epworth Orphanage.

I am, with faith in the Church,

Respectfully yours,

GEO. W. WILLIAMS, Chairman Board of Trustees of Epworth Orphanage.

Report of Superintendent October 24, 1922.

To the Board of Control of Epworth Orphanage.

Dear Brethren: I herewith submit my report as Superintendent of Epworth Orphanage for year ending September 30, 1922.

The year has brought many problems in the administration of the institution. However, these problems have been met and solved with a fair measure of success. The Heavenly Father has been gracious towards us, and a large number of our people have been loyal in helping to care for our children.

During the year we have admitted eighteen boys and seventeen girls, making a total of thirty-five. At present we have two hundred and forty-two children under our care.

Moral and Religious Life.

The Superintendent and all of his co-workers have tried to exercise the most diligent care in looking after the moral and religious life of our children. Daily prayers are held in the Church immediately after the supper hour. The various homes have their prayers before retiring at night, conducted by the children themselves. We have a well organized Sunday school. Our teachers and matrons compose the teaching force. Religious services are held every Sunday afternoon. Rev. A. M. Doggett, our pastor, preaches the second and fourth Sundays. We have various preachers and laymen to conduct the services for us on the other Sundays.

School

We have secured the services of Mr. Arthur M. Jones as Principal of our school. He has the work well in hand, and promises to make a very competent Principal. As most of our friends know, in addition to an Eleventh Grade School, we conduct a Kindergarten Department for those of our children who are too young to enter the first grade. In this way we are able to give definite training to the minds and hearts of our children from the day they enter the institution until they are sent out into the world.

Health

The health of our entire family has been unusually good throughout the entire year. No one has been seriously ill at any time. One of our little girls, Henrietta Todd, was accidentally killed by an automobile. The occurrence was deplorable, but at the same time, we feel that it was unavoidable.

Printing Office.

The printing office has made a very favorable showing during the past year, particularly during the last several months. We have secured the services of Mr. F. E. Bradham as Manager of this department. He is not only a very competent printer, but an energetic solicitor of business. We are now getting all the job work the office can take care of.

During the year the office has netted $1,565.14.

Dairy and Stock Farm.

Our dairy herd has been very profitable during the past year. It has produced 25,665 gallons of milk. Our feed bill amounted to $3,215.44, salaries $650.00, making a total cost of $3,865.44. In other words, the cost per gallon was only 15c. The dairy shows a net profit of $7,556.81. At present we have 31 cows, 7 heifers, 10 calves, 2 bulls (registered).

Hogs

During the year we have butchered 10,080 pounds of meat. This quantity of meat, together with the feeding of the stock carried over, cost only $3\frac{1}{2}c$. per pound.

Poultry Yard.

Our poultry yard was begun in January. At that time we bought 185 hens, and during the year we have raised 40 pullets, so that now we have 222 pure-bred White Leghorn hens. During the eight months they have produced 1,244 dozen eggs, at the cost of 17c. per dozen.

Farm Products and Vegetables.

This has been a fairly successful year with our farm. We have produced sufficient quantity of oats and peavine hay with which to feed our work stock. We produced 80 tons of corn for the silo and ample pasturage consisting of rape, peanuts and sorghum for the hogs.

We have been able to gather at least one (usually several) vegetables from our fields every day during the entire yar. At present we are using rape, mustard, turnips, butter beans, cabbage, okra and tomatoes.

Below we give the quantity of each vegetable produced during the year:

Beans, 256 bushels; beets, 1,125 pounds; cabbage, 3,920 pounds; corn, 11,000 ears; okra, 60 bushels; onions, 8,540 pounds; mustard, 1,560 pounds; collards, 600 heads; tomatoes, 164 bushels, tomatoes, 500 gallons canned; peas (English), 43 bushels; peas (field), 20 bushels; potatoes (sweet), 1,400 bushels; potatoes (Irish), 92 bushels; squash, 300; turnips, 1,200 pounds; lettuce, 353 heads.

General Improvements

A system of underground drainage has been installed on the campus. On the farm we have reclaimed about four acres of bottom land by putting in a system of tile drainage. All the terra cotta pipe was purchased at a small cost from the Camp Jackson Salvage Sale.

The driveways leading through the campus have all been built up with sand and clay mixture. The two driveways leading north and south have been extended through the entire campus, converging at the point where Holly street meets our property. Thus forming a horseshoe driveway in front of the Administration Building.

A row of pecan trees has been planted on either side of these driveways. Out of 75 trees set, 73 are living and growing nicely.

During the year the old marble yard buildings have been torn down and moved away. Several other unsightly buildings, which were serving no definite purpose, have been moved out. The peach orchard, which occupied the area adjoining the yards of the Walton and Leonard Homes has been removed to the west side of the campus. The fence has been removed and this area has been converted into campus. This change relieves the congested condition which has existed in this part of the grounds.

Additional playgrounds have been provided.

We have made several changes in the homes, so that now the girls occupy the west half of the campus, while the boys have the east side.

Parts of the campus have been seeded in various grasses for winter lawns. Most of the seed were donated by the Kirkland Seed Company.

The west wing of the Administration Building is nearing completion. We expect to occupy it by December 1st. This wing makes a very splendid appearance from the outside, and every one is impressed with the convenient appointments, as well as the beauty of the interior. Every Methodist has a reason for pride in this splendid building. It will fill a long felt need in the work of caring for the children at Epworth Orphanage.

Urgent Need of More Liberal Support.

The contributions received from the various Churches, Sunday schools and individuals during the past year have not been sufficient to meet the needs of our children. It has been necessary for us to draw from our reserve fund the sum of $12,358.75 in order to meet running expenses. We have no reserve fund to draw upon in the future, and unless our people realize the situation and contribute more liberally in provisoins, supplies and money, our children must of necessity suffer for many of the things which they should have. We are practicing the strictest economy in caring for our children, and we do not believe that the great Methodist Church is willing that these little ones be deprived of the things that will make for their comfort now, as well as their well being in the future.

We are entering upon the new year with an unbounded faith in the goodness of our Heavenly Father. We have faith, too, in the great body of Methodists in South Carolina that they will see to it that the motherless and fatherless children at Epworth Orphanage shall not suffer for that care and those advantages which God intended every child should have.

Respectfully submitted,

W. D. ROBERTS, Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON EVANGELISM

The words of Christ's first text "The spirit of the Lord God is upon me because He hath annointed me to preach the gospel" must ever be the spirit that shall characterize our work. Permeating every plan and forming the life blood of every effort must ever be the spirit of Evangelism.

The Christian home, the Sunday school, the Christian College, look toward the training of the evangelist while the great missionary work is but the sending forth of the messenger to do the work assigned him by the great Head of the Church.

In our Suncay School work we make a great mistake if we look alone to "Decision Day" for special evangelistic effort. Decision Day is but the harvest day of the year's work. If we have not done plowing and planting and cultivating prior to that time then the harvest is much the same way. The best revival is the one that comes at the close of careful canvass and personal work or a careful period of cultivation.

All the great work of the Church in its varied branches centers on evangelism—Sunday School, Education, Missions. Believing this the Committee on Evangelism together with the Sunday School Board the Board of Education, and the Board of Missions as represented in their several Conference Secretries, launched in the spring of the year a conference-wide series of gatherings and by varied speakers on the subjects of Education, Missions, Sunday Schools and Evangelism made more clear in the minds of those present that all these great causes were closely correlated, and that the proper carrying out of the work of the church in the field of the Sunday school, of education, and of missions is but the making more sure and lasting the work of evangelism. After six weeks of strenuous work those who had this series of meetings in charge felt that much had been accomplished.

We are glad to note that throughout the Conference there have been some soul stirring revivals and that as a result of these and the faithful steady work of the pastors and their co-laborers 2153 have been added to the Church on profession of faith.

Let us not be tempted to look to the stated revival or Decision Day alone for the results of the gospel message but let us stress often in our regular services and in our Sabbath schools an immediate decision for Christ and His service.

THOS. G. HERBERT, Chairman.

REPORT ON LAY ACTIVITIES-NO. 1

The Board of Lay Activities begs hereby to nominate as Conference Lay Leader during the coming year, James M. Lynch of Florence.

REPORT ON LAY ACTIVITIES-NO. 2

The Board of Lay Activities beg to submit the following report:

We have examined with interest the changes which were made by the last General Conference in the law governing lay activities, and desire to record our approval thereof, and our belief that the new organization will function more efficiently and render a greater service to the Church than has been possible in the past. In order that greatest value may be realized at once from the machinery thus provided, we commend to all of the brethren, both preachers and laymen, the careful study of the new plans, and the immediate utilization thereof through organization as provided thereby. In this work of organization we shall need, and bespeak, the hearty co-operation of our Presiding Elders and Pastors.

Realizing that much of the inefficiency of lay activity in the past has resulted from the lack of a definite program therefor, and believing that no organization can render effective service without concrete objectives in view, we submit the following as a general program of lay activities in this Conference during the ensuing year:

I. Spiritual.

- a. The emphasizing of personal evangelism and the promotion of a definite evangelistic effort.
- b. The deepening of the devotional spirit of our people through more intelligent and systematic study of the Scriptures and the cultivation of a genuine prayer life.

c. To inculcate the desire among all our people to consecrate their lives and their service.

II. Educational.

- a. To direct the thought of our people constantly and consistently to the great principle and doctrine of Christian Stewardship and tithing.
- b. The dissemination of the literature of our Church, both our regular organs and the various pamphlets upon special subjects issued by our General Boards.
- c. The support of our educational institutions not financially only, but through directing the thought of our people to the advantages of educating their children therein.
- d. Co-operation with the Sunday School Board and officers in their effort to raise the standards and increase the efficiency of our Sunday Schools, particularly through the providing of the necessary physical equipment therefor.

III. Financial.

- a. We again urge the universal adoption of the Every Member canvass, and the training of our people in the habit of regular, systematic contribution.
- b. In the past the South Carolina Conference has had the distinction of having every charge report its assessments in full. We covet such a record again. In spite of the prevailing adverse conditions, we therefore urge of this standard, and name this as one of the objectives of this organization during the coming year.
- c. Realizing the impelling importance of the payment of our Centenary and Educational pledges, we desire to have the full force of our 1ay organization placed at the disposal of our Secretaries charged with this duty, and we assure them of our fullest co-operation therein.

We request that an appropriation of $1,000.00 be made to cover the expenses of this Board.

In conclusion we desire to express the hope that our laymen may be called upon for the rendition of definite service. We wish our brethren of the ministry to feel that this organization is not aside from nor independent of their work, but that it is called into being to assist them in their labors. We invite the opportunity to help them in the carrying out of their plans and undertakings, and we hope that they will accept our offer of service and use us in every possible way.

J. M. LYNCH, Chairman,
W. E. NESMITH, Secretary,
For the Board.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MINUTES

Your Committee on Minutes submits the following report:

- 1. The report of the Treasurer shows that there is a balance of $57.75.
- 2. We request the Commission on Finance for an assessment of $2,000 for the publication of the Minutes for the year 1923.
- 3. We recommend that $100 be appropriated for expenses of secretaries.
- 4. We nominate W. V. Dibble and W. A. Beckham as editors and publishers of the Minutes.
- 5. We recommend that 4,000 copies of the Minutes be published and that a copy of the same be sent to each clerical member of the Upper South Carolina Conference, and a copy also be put in the archives of Wofford College.

S. D. BAILEY, Chairman, W. D. GLEATON, Secy. and Treas.

REPORT OF BOARD OF MISSIONS

Your Board has heard, through the Presiding Elders, reports from mission charges of the Conference. These reports reveal progress in some of these charges.

We regret to note that the collections throughout the Conference have fallen far short of the assessments; only 64% having been paid, which is the smallest percentage paid in a number of years.

We make the following recommendations:

- 1. That the Presiding Elders be instructed to ask at each Quarterly Conference the following questions: 1st. What has been raised the past quarter for Centenary Fund? 2nd. Has it been sent to the Conference Centenary Treasurer?
- 2. That the Conference Centenary Treasurer be, and is hereby, instructed to gather together all the pledges of the pastors and Presiding Elders from the various local Church Treasurers and hold same, for collection; and that the said Conference Centenary Treasurer be required to send a receipt for individual payments made on these pledges to the Treasurer of the local Church where they were made for proper credit, and a duplicate to the individual preacher.
- 3. That the following commission, Presiding Elder, Sumter District, one member from Columbia College Board of Trustees, one from the Board of Missions, one from the Board of Church Extension, and from the College Place Church, be appointed to investigate the condition of College Place Church and suggest plans to meet the needs there.
- 4. That the Board of Trustees of the Textile Industrial Institute be given authority: 1st. To increase its membership to such a number as in its judgment the best interest of the school seems to require.

2nd. To fill vacancies thus created by this increase in membership in the interim of the Conference.

3rd. To sell or take any other steps that may seem advisable in the reorganization and disposition of the Model Mill, the school and its property.

4th. That we nominate the following Trustees: A. J. Cauthen, Geo. M. Wright, Thos. G. McLeod, E. L. McCoy, and Wm. Stackhouse.

We nominate the following as Trustees of the Horry Industrial School: Col. R. B. Scarborough, J. D. Montgomery, W. P. Lewis, W. S. Foxworth, F. F. Covington, H. W. Ambrose, Cordie Page, Rev. G. F. Kirby, E. M. Graham, Pastor Conway Station, and Presiding Elder Marion District.

We nominate the following Evangelistic Committee: T. G. Herbert, J. W. Ivey, G. P. Watson, L. E. Peeler, and J. M. Rogers.

We request the Bishop to appoint the Rev. A. J. Cauthen as Conference Missionary Secretary.

G. E. EDWARDS, Chairman, W. A. BECKHAM, Secretary.

SUPERANNUATE AID ASSOCIATION

The committee appointed for that purpose procured a charter for this corporation by special act of the Legislature, it being in the opinion of the committee advisable to incorporate by special act. This delayed the procuring of the charter until the Legislature convened, and the bill of incorporation was delayed in progress until almost the end of the session. Soon after the adjournment of the last Conference, the Board met at Sumter, S. C., every member being present. The organization was perfected by the election of T. H. Tatum, of Sumter ,S. C., president, and Charlton DuRant, of Manning, S. C., Secretary and Treasurer. By resolution, it was provided that the treasurer give bond for the performance of his duties, in the sum of $10,000. The work of the corporation at this meeting was planned and plans laid for a vigorous campaign. However, before the projection of these plans, and after consultation with each other and with a number of preachers and laymen of our Conference, the Board concluded that inasmuch as the General Conference was contemplating a similar campaign of Churchwide scope, that it would be best to wait until the General Conference had met and then determine what, if anything, we should undertake during the year. Besides this reason, the Centenary Commission was at that time occupying the field with the Pay-Up Campaign of Centenary pledges, and the campaign for Christian Education had not yet fully wound up its work. It, therefore, appeared to us that the time for the projection of an independent movement for our superannuates was hardly propitious. We accordingly delayed action until after the session of the General Conference. At the General Conference at Hot Springs a program was adopted for a general campaign for the benefit of superannuated preachers, and we felt that it might be regarded as unfair for us, at this time, to occupy our field with an independent movement for the same purpose, but limited in its benefits to our own Conference. For these reasons, we concluded to defer any activity on the part of this corporation until the execution of the plans projected by the General Conference for superannuates. After this program is completed, it is the purpose of the Board to carry out in every respect the purpose of the organization in the manner outlined therein.

In the general campaign for superannuates, outlined at the General Conference at Hot Springs, we tender our organization to this Conference, to be used by it in any way that the Conference deems best or desirable.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SABBATH OBSERVANCE

Your Committee on Sabbath Observance submits the following report: The Christian Sabbath or Lord's Day, unlike the Jewish Sabbath, is primarily not a day of rest, but a day of worship.

In commemoration, not only of the Resurrection of our Lord on the first day of the week, and His most memorable appearance on the first day of the week, but of the descension of the Holy Spirit upon the whole Church on the first day of the week, we believe that the early and Apostolic Church, during the transition period between the Old and New Dispensations, voluntarily and without a commandment so ordering, did set apart the first day of the week as a day of worship.

We deplore the fact that in many of our Methodist homes there are books and other propaganda setting forth the error that the seventh day of the week is, and ought to be, a day of rest, in obedience to the Divine commandment which is in commemoration of the deliverance of the Children of Israel from the land of bondage as well as of the creation of all things.

As new born creatures in Christ Jesus, we should be reminded by the recurrence of the Lord's day, of the source and power of that liberty wherewith Christ doth set us free. The mere refraining from ordinary work on the first day of the week is, in our opinion, not a proper observance of the Christian Sabbath. The spirit of the Lord's day is a spirit of prayer, thanksgiving and rejoicing.

We, therefore, urge that all our people meet together at their several places of worship on the first day of the week, as did the early fathers, and after prayer and confession of their, sins to God, stir up their minds by the reading, singing and preaching of the Gospel of Christ, that they may cultivate that heavenly fellowship by which all true believers in His redeeming grace should be bound.

We recommend that all our preachers study to know the law of liberty in special reference to the keeping of the Lord's day, and not only preach a sermon on its observance, but in their pastoral visitation make a part of their conversation to deal with the Divine idea underlying its observance, and exhort the people publicly and privately to take full advantage of the glorious privilege of meeting regularly at God's house for the enjoyment of the Diviner social life so precious to those who come together in the unity of the Spirit.

REPORT OF SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD-NO. 1

Your Sunday School Board submits the following for adoption:

1. South Carolina Methodism has always stood, and now stands, for co-operation in the great task of religious education. The sincere desire for such co-operation has been repeatedly expressed, notably in action taken by the Upper South Carolina Conference in session at Union, S. C., November, 1920, in its preamble and in Resolution 3, as follows:

"That Methodists believe in co-operation with other denominations or agencies in such matters, and to whatever extent the denominations or agencies concerned may agree upon;"

and by the South Carolina Conference in session at Georgetown, S. C., November, 1920, in Resolution 3, as follows:

"That while we cannot approve of or join the South Carolina Sunday School Association of the International Sunday School organization, we co believe in and are ready for hearty co-operation in a program of religious education, 'of, for and by' the churches, and that our Sunday School leaders, through the Executive Committee of the Sunday School Board, are authorized to take steps toward securing a truly representative State organization 'of, for and by' the churches."

While forced at that time to disapprove the actions and policies of the then existing International Association and of the South Carolina Sunday School Association, we have earnestly desired the formation of both a general body and a State organization that would permit truly co-operative work by the various denominations and agencies. We, therefore, rejoice that after years of careful discussion and wise planning there has been formed, by the unanimous consent of both bodies, a merger of the International Sunday School Association and the Sunday School Council of Evangelical Denominations. This new organization, under the name and title of "The International Sunday School Council of Religious Education" has definitely adopted by-laws and principles of correlation, which state that "the responsibility to initiate, promote and supervise the religious education of its constituency devolves upon each denomination" and that "there is a further responsibility resting upon all denominations, to meet which there have developed voluntary and official inter-denominational organizations. To help meet this common responsibility, the International Sunday School Council of Religious Education has been constituted officially by agreement from the various denominational bodies and territorial associations desiring to co-operate;" and provision has been made for State organization in harmony with the principles of the new general organization

- 2. We are in hearty accord with the action taken by the General Sunday School Board of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in session at Lake Junaluska, N. C., July, 1922, relative to the International Sunday School Council of Religious Education and its statement of conditions for co-operation (See Sunday School Yearbook 1922); under which conditions we stand ready to enter heartily into co-operation with the International Sunday School Council of Religious Education, and into the organization in South Carolina of a State Sunday School Council of Religious Education, organized in accordance with the principles provided therein for the organization of State Councils; and we are in accord with the recommendations of the General Sunday School Board to the Annual Conferences in regard to the organization of State Councils of Religious Education.
- 3. The South Carolina Conference authorizes its Sunday School Board to appoint a committee of three on Reference and Counsel, with power, under the conditions herein stated, to act with like committees of the several evangelical denominations in South Carolina and the South Carolina Sunday School Association upon the official call of the General Secretary of the International Sunday School Council of Religious Education, to plan for the organization of a South Carolina Sunday School Council of Religious Education that shall, in spirit and in fact, give opportunity for official, representative co-operation among the Sunday School forces of the State.
- 4. Upon the report of our representatives on the Committee on Reference and Counsel that the Committee on Reference and Counsel has effected the organization of a State Council of Religious Education in South Carolina in accordance with the principles herein set forth, the Sunday School Board is authorized to appoint the allotted number of representatives from this Conference as members of the State Sunday School Council of Religious Education.
- 5. The foregoing statement of attitude and purpose is conditioned upon the official announcement from the International Sunday School Council of Religious Education that the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, is a member of the said International Sunday School Council of Religious Education according to the conditions set forth by the General Sunday School Board of our Church.

VANCE W. BRABHAM, Chairman. W. C. OWEN, Secretary.

Note: The report given above was presented to the South Carolina Conference by the Sunday School Board on Dec. 1, 1922, and adopted without a dissenting vote.

J. E. FORD,

Conference Superintendent.

REPORT NO. 2 OF SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD

The Sunday School Board has been greatly hindered because funds have not been available to meet many urgent demands. We believe that ample funds to supplement the assessment can be and ought to be secured through a systematic observance of Sunday School Day as required by the Discipline. Therefore we request the Conference to adopt the following plan for Sunday School Day promotion and observance in 1923:

- (a) The third, fourth, and fifth Sundays of April, 1923, shall be set apart as the Sundays on one of which every Church shall observe Sunday School Day with appropriate exercises and an offering for Conference work, and no conflicting plans of work shall be scheduled during this period.
- (b) The minimum amount to be raised on Sunday School Day shall be fixed at $5,000, net, and this amount shall be apportioned properly to the districts, charges and Churches.
- (c) The Sunday School Board, through its Executive Committee, in co-operation with the District Executive Committees, shall prepare and promote a program of cultivation, making use of all Conference-wide and district meetings for this purpose, and shall provide for such recognition of schools as may be desirable.
- (d) The Presiding Elders, Pastor and Superintendents are asked to give diligent support to this plan in the districts, charges and Churches.

VANCE W. BRABHAM, Chairman, W. C. OWEN, Secretary.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD REPORT-NO. 3

Your Sunday School Board comes to the close of the quadrennium with a sense of gratitude because of the results that have been possible. On every hand there is evidence of a larger appreciation of the Sunday School as a fundamental agency in the building of the Kingdom, and the present-day Sunday School is characterized by increased efficiency in its organization, methods of work, and results.

We have conceived of our task as having to do with the building of Christian character, and we have sought to measure the value of our work by the results attained in this direction. Religious education involves the training of the whole life and the fashioning of ideals according to Christian principles. Primarily, therefore, the opportunity of the Church lies with childhood and youth; and we believe that its fundamental task is the religious education of its constituency.

It is a matter of gratification to us that there seems to be an increase in interest in and loyalty to the Sunday School on the part of the adult membership of the Church. Still, it is perhaps safe to say that not more than fifty per cent. of our adults are members of the Sunday School. We are challenged, therefore, with the responsibility of reaching effectively the whole Church for the Church School.

It is our privilege to call to your attention a few of the vital matters connected with the Sunday School of today, and with the promotion of religious education in our Conference.

1. A Brief Review.

The reports of our Conference staff indicate that there has been progress along many lines. We cite a few statistics to illustrate this fact:

A district Sunday School conference has been held in each of the districts, and plans have been made for effective volunteer organization. Also several sub-district meetings have been held.

There are 124 Standard Elementary Departments that have been reported to the Conference Office, and the Conference holds second place in the whole Church in this regard.

We have a large number of organized Wesley classes, and many of these are doing excellent work. During the coming year a definite program of service will be presented to these classes.

Splendid progress has been made in training work. Eleven training schools have been held, and 479 certificates of credit have been issued to workers in our Conference this year. The total number of certificates issued to workers in this Conference is 1,584, these having been received by 688 workers. The Myrtle Beach Training School and the South Carolina Methodist Training Conference suffered a decease in enrollment this year, but our representation at Junaluska was 46, equal to or excelling that of any other Conference in the Church.

The Sunday Schools of the Conference have contributed to missions this year more than three thousand dollars, and this amount will probably be considerably increased by the end of the calendar year. Since the beginning of the Centenary period our schools have contributed to missions more than $25,000. Twenty-six specials are carried.

Complete records are kept in the office covering all phases of the work. Other office work has included systematic correspondence and the distribution of a large amount of literature.

A reference and circulating library has been established, which now contains 160 books touching upon all phases of religious education. These books are available for the use of pastors and other Sunday School workers, subject to certain library conditions.

Attention is called to the exhibit of Sunday School work that has been planned by our staff for this Conference. The charts and other material included give a survey of the work and set forth aims for the future.

2. Program of Work and Aims.

The new "Program of Work" for the Methodist Sunday Schools is the most complete standard our Church has ever issued. This program is now published in two types, the "B" or classroom type, and the "C" or one-room type, and during the coming year the program for the "A" cr departmental type school will be issued. The ten points of the charts touch every phase of the work; as, for example, organization, lesson materials, worship, evangelism, missions and service, buildings and equipment, records, workers' meetings, training a leadership, etc. The charts are being distributed with care and the schools will be personally checked by Conference or district officers. We strongly recommend that all pastors and superintendents adopt as their aim the promotion of the Program of Work in their schools, and that every school seek to reach at least the "Progressive" standard during the coming year. We would like to urge also the following items as Conference-wide goals:

- (a) At least one Standard Elementary Department, at least one organized Wesley class, a Cradle Roll, and a Home Department in every school.
- (b) Graded lessons used in at least the Beginner and Primary Departments of every school.
- (c) Every pastor and superintendent reading at least one approved book on Sunday School work or taking credit in the Standard Training Course.
- (d) A minimum of 1,000 certificates of training credits issued to workers in our Conference.
- (e) Every pastor and superintendent reading the Southern Christian Advocate, the Methodist Superintendent and His Helpers, and the Church School or some other approved Sunday School periodical.
- (f) A missionary contribution from every school, with at least fifty schools carrying specials.
 - (g) A Worker's Council meeting regularly in every school.
 - (h) Sunday School Day observed by every school.
 - (i) Contribution to Epworth Orphanage by every school.
- (j) Five thousand additions to the Church on profession of faith through Sunday School evangelism.
- (k) Effective Conference and district organization pushed, including a Conference-wide Sunday School Conference and Federation.

The attainment of these and other desirable goals will depend largely upon the leadership of the pastor. Therefore, we most earnestly urge that all our pastors make these aims their own.

3. Training Schools.

The Board will continue the Myrtle Beach Training School during the coming year, and urgently requests that this school shall receive the full support of the Conference, particularly the support of those districts that are most accessible. We approve also the continuance of the South Carolina Methodist Training Conference and have made appropriation for our share of its support. It is our purpose to establish, as rapidly as practicable, a system of training schools, to include a Conference School easily accessible to all sections, at least one standard school in each district, preferably district-wide in scope, at least three non-standard schools in each district, and as many one-teacher schools and training classes in local churches as possible. We suggest the possibility and the desirability of co-operation with other Boards in making such a system possible.

4. Conferences.

A Conference-wide Sunday School meeting and a Conference in each district will be a part of the program of the Board during the new year. We are fully convinced that the largest results will not be possible without the gathering of our workers in such meetings as are proposed, and we urge that the fullest possible support be given.

5. Campaign of Evangelism.

The General Sunday School Board has announced a suggestive and uniform plan of Evangelism for our Sunday Schools. We have given the matter careful consideration and recommend the adoption of the following definite plan:

- (a) During the month of January special emphasis shall be given to the preparation of officers and teachers for evangelistic work, this training to include the circulation of literature, articles in the Advocate, meetings of workers in the local church, a survey, and such other means of preparation as may be feasible.
- (b) During the month of February special effort shall be made by officers and teachers, in the classes and otherwise, to lead their pupils to accept and confess Christ as their Saviour and Lord; this period to close with Confession or Decision Day on the first or second Sunday in March.
- (e) From Decision Day until Easter Sunday, April 1st, those who apply for Church membership shall be prepared for an intelligent assumption of the vows, the officers and teachers to assist the pastor in this important work, and the class to be received by the pastor on Easter Sunday.

Such modifications as are necessary may be made by pastors and other workers, but it is urged that the three distinctive periods suggested are fundamental and the plan in that respect should be followed as closely as possible.

6. General Board's Representative.

We hereby express our appreciation of the visit of Dr. John W. Shackford, General Sunday School Secretary, and our thanks to him for the large contribution he has made in our Board meetings and on the occasion of the Sunday School Anniversary.

7. Elections.

The Board has elected the following staff of employed workers: Conference Superintendent of Sunday School Work, Rev. J. E. Ford. Assistant Superintendent, Miss Grace Killingsworth. Elementary Superintendent and Special Assistant, Miss Mary Lemmon.

8. Appointments.

We respectfully request the Presiding Bishop to make the following appointments:

Conference Superintendent of Sunday School Work, J. E. Ford.

Superintendent Department of Adult and Home Work, General Sunday School Board, W. C. Owen.

Respectfully submitted,

VANCE W. BRABHAM, Chairman.
W. C. OWEN, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TEMPERANCE AND SOCIAL SERVICE

(1) We express our gratification at the political and legal progress of temperance and prohibition. The general results of the recent political campaign show us that the cause of legal prohibition is not losing ground in the country, notwithstanding the strenuous efforts of its opponents.

President Harding recently voiced a general sentiment when he said that there is not liable to be a recession from the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead law and its enforcement. All efforts at enforcement should be heartily endorsed and strenuously supported everywhere by all good people. We endorse the work of the Anti-Saloon League, and ask our people to continue to give it their sympathy, and to encourage it with their influence and money. The Church and her allied agencies must furnish the spiritual stimulus to make our prohibition laws effective. There is great need for the spiritual and moral earnestness and loyalty which the Church cultivates:

(a) In our school teachers, that they may impart the right kind of instruction on this subject;

(b) In our newspaper men, that they may maintain the right kind of attitude on this subject and see to it that their papers, these valuable public agencies, do not degenerate into that which would be a public injury;

(c) In our law officers, that they may diligently protect the public from injury by neglect;

(d) That in the home, the household influences may be wholesome;

(e) That every individual may exercise a healthy self-restraint. After all the hope of the world in all moral matters is not in better laws, better officers and better public institutions and organizations, but in better citizens and better Christians. We deplore what seems to be a spirit of lawlessness which is abroad in the land. We recommend that our people associate themselves with the good people of their several communities, and stand for truth and righteousness. If needs be, to organize themselves into law and order leagues, seeking to create a public sentiment in favor of law observance, and to stand with the courts and officers of the law for the enforcement of all law

(2) The Church and her people are patriotic and stand for peace. We believe that a general reduction in armaments by the nations of the earth would be in accord with the spirit of Christianity. We would regret to see the general cultivation of the spirit of war in the masses of our youth. No less to be deplored is the selfish, greedy, competition and commercial war engaged in between the peoples of the different nations. Christianity must sanctify the business relations of men even of different nationalities and temperaments so that justice and liberality reign if we are to be saved from fratricidal strife.

(3) Industrial war is likewise deplorable. We insist that justice and consideration for the rights of others, as taught by Jesus Christ and His Church, if put into practice in the industries of the world, by labor and capital, would make unnecessary much of the modern industrial strife.

An intelligent Christian government, such as that of the United States, should devise some method of settling, for all concerned, the industrial problems that arise without the loss, suffering and public inconvenience which attend long strikes and other industrial disturbances, and to this end should all good people and religious organizations lend their influence.

- (4) The efforts of our progressive and scientific agricultural leaders and farmers who help our people to a solution of the agricultural problems created by the presence of the boll weevil are commended, and their success is devoutly prayed for.
- (5) We look forward with hope and expectation to the time when the husband and father of every home shall support in reasonable comfort his family in such a way that the mother may be released from exacting duty outside of her home, in order that she may give herself to the rearing and Christian training of her children, for we believe that this is woman's highest sphere, noblest calling, and greatest opportunity. And, further, that their children of school age should be permitted to attain that mental development which is their birthright.
- (6) The history of the American negro demonstrates that the race at large makes its best progress upward in morals, intelligence, happiness and industry when in intimate touch with a superior race who sympathizes with them, and yet guards the social positions of the races. If the American negro should be given his proper place in the United States, and a wholesome example set before him, it would, no doubt, contribute largely to his uplift; thus we would be in harmony with the noble and self-sacrificing brethren who preceded us.
- (7) We respectfully request Bishop Denny to reappoint Dr. E. O. Watson to his present position as Secretary of the Federal Council of Churches.

M. L. BANKS, Chairman, W. H. HODGES, Secretary.

Report of Secretary

November 29, 1922.

To the Brotherhood of the South Carolina Conference:

Marion, S. C.

Dear Brethren:

I submit my annual report as follows:

- 1. We have 246 clerical and 40 lay members this year. This is an increase of 2 clerical members and a slight decrease in lay members.
- 2. Since my last report to you seven of our clerical members have passed into the Home above: R. M. DuBose, J. L. Stokes, S. B. Harper, D. H. Everett, H. J. Cauthen, W. A. Massebeau and J. L. Harley. To each widow $300 was promptly sent from the Brotherhood treasury. We are now assured that we will be able to pay the remaining $700 to each beneficiary of this year.
- 3. Our death rate was quite heavy for the year just closing, but our reserve had grown to $2,553.08, so we will be able to meet all obligations and still have a fair reserve left.

I hereto attach my report as treasurer for 1921, and also a financial summary for the present year up to November 1st. I wish to call special attention to the fact that all the expenses of the Brotherhood have been covered for the past two years by the interest income on our funds. Thus every cent contributed by our members goes directly to our beneficiaries.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT D. BETTS, Secy. and Treas.

MEMOIRS

REV. JOHN LEMACKS STOKES, D. D.

It is a difficult thing to condense into brief appraisal the significance of a ministry of forty-seven years in the Methodist Church. As one considers so long a period, with its lights and shadows, its unremitting warfare against the forces of evil, its moments of triumph and its moments of despondency, one feels that one is approaching a subject that is holy and sacred. Especially is this true if he who lived such a life exemplified in a notable way, the rich traditions, the deep spiritual power and the distinctive qualities that are the glory of Methodism. He of whom we write went with shining armor through all the multiform experiences tion of his Church.

that his term of service implies, enriching by his personality, by his gracious spirit, and by his faithful and effective labors, the great tradi-

The Rev. John Lemacks Stokes was the son of Col. Benjamin and Mrs. Harriet Lemacks Stokes. He was born at "Rock Springs plantation, near Walterboro, February 5, 1854. He became, at birth, the heir to an old and honorable name, distinguished through a long line by the integrity of character, the deep culture and the upright life of those who bore it. In a home where God was honored and character exalted, the foundations of his life were carefully and solidly laid. During the disastrous days of the war, and immediately afterwards, he was taught by the best teachers available, and though he was unable to secure a college degree, the lack of one was not discernible in after life by the acute observer, to such an attainment of real scholarship and literary ability did he reach by native gifts and systematic application.

Dr. Stokes joined the Church in October, 1871. He was licensed to preach June 6, 1874, and joined the Conference in Greenville the following December. One who reads the second chapter of "The Knight of the Saddlebags" will not fail to feel the effect that the great Bishop Marvin had upon the young preacher at that time. The deep note of calm dedication expressed in his book, which so characterized his life, seems to have come to him at this, his first Conference. Admitted with him this year were W. H. Ariail, J. C. Counts, M. M. Ferguson, A. W. Jackson, J. J. Neville, S. D. Vaughn, W. W. Williams, and J. W. Wolling. Beginning as junior preacher on the Bennettsville Circuit in 1875, he served the following appointments: Sumter Circuit, 1876; Fort Mill Circuit, 1877-78; Ward Circuit, 1879; Marion Street, Columbia, 1880-83; Orangeburg, 1884; Bennettsville, 1885-86; Newberry, 1887-88; Bamberg and Buford's Bridge, 1889-91; Spring Street, 1892-5; Bennettsville, 1896-98; Georgetown, 1899-1900; Camden, 1901-2; York, 1903-6; North Augusta, 1907-10; Williamston, 1911-13; Walhalla, 1914-17; Prosperity ,1918; College Place and Professor in Columbia College, 1919-20; West End, Georgetown, 1921.

On December 27, 1876, Dr. Stokes was married to Miss Loretta P. Barentine of Marlboro County. Rarely has any man had a more beautiful and more nearly perfect love story. To him his wife became "at once a check, a balance, an inspiration," and some of his loveliest verses pay tribute to his companion. In his poetry one finds frequent effort to give tangible expression to this deep devotion and to their long and beautiful pilgrimage together. In his poem, "Thirty Years After," he says:

"But all of change and stress ,love,

Hath only made us strong;

The vow—the old caress, love,

Is still a 'lovely song.'"

And so it was—a song, the music of which made sweet and easy the rugged path of over forty years. To the end of his life he was the chival-rous and devoted lover. Four children blessed the home, Mrs. Claire Covington, Mrs. R. F. Sifford, Rev. M. B. Stokes, Mrs. Grace Carter.

While Dr. Stokes was, first of all, a preacher, he was a versatile man. He possessed a literary gift of more than ordinary type. Though his books were written, as he said, "for recreation," yet because of the sure touch and fine taste of the author, they obey the canons of art and adhere to its sincerity. In 1885 he published "Eldon Drayton," in which some of the struggles of a young man just after the Civil War are vividly portrayed. His next book was "Claire De Veaux." In 1908 he published "A Knight of the Saddlebags," which portrays with great sympathy and perfect understanding the life and work of a Methodist preacher. But it is in "Short Flights of Song," published in 1911, that one gets closest to the heart of the writer. It is in this book that we find that beneath the breast of this strong servant of God, to whom duty was law and unequivocable righteousness was precept, there beat the heart of a poet, highly susceptible to beauty and pain, and tender with a poet's longings.

His unusual gifts and great ability were universally recognized by his brethren. More than once he was called upon to do editorial writing for the Southern Christian Advocate, to which paper he was at all times a valued contributor. For fifteen years he was a member of the Examining Committee of his Conference. For many years he was a trustee of Lander College. In 1912 he delivered before the Historical Society of the Conference an able and timely address on "The March of Democracy in the Methodist Church, South." His scholarship and ability were recognized beyond the borders of the State, and in May, 1903, Kentucky Wesleyan College conferred the degree of Doctor of Divinity upon him.

In 1919 Dr. Stokes was sent to College Place Church, which at that time carried with it the appointment to the chair of Bible in Columbia College. With his characteristic modesty the doctor was accustomed to say that he was afraid that he had begun his pedagogical career too late. But, as a matter of fact, his gracious presence was a blessing to students and faculty alike, by whom he was universally beloved, and his ripe scholarship, enhanced by the rich experience of years, gave to his teaching of the Bible a fine quality and a significance that made itself felt in the lives of his students.

Dr. Stokes was a member of the faculty of the South Carolina Training Conference from its beginning. In his work as a teacher he manifested that faithful and accurate labor which characterized all that he did.

As a preacher, Dr. Stokes dedicated his whole being to his ministry. His sermons were characterized by careful and thoughtful preparation and reflected the deep spirituality of his earnest soul. He never dropped into a rut, but was constantly on the alert, weighing and studying changes and on guard against the ever-shifting attack of the foes of the Kingdom. He was rooted and grounded in truth that is not variable and that knows not a shadow of turning. There were things which he knew, and for this knowledge he was ready at any time to go into battle. As a pastor he was deeply loved. He seemed to bear with him the magic key to heart and home, and his revered feet found a welcome on every threshold.

Endowed with tact, possessing an exquisite sense of humor, virile in his optimism, gentle and courteous, his presence was an adornment and a benediction to the homes of those whom he served.

Dr. Stokes was one of the knightliest of men. Possessed of innate dignity, with poise and deliberation, but once convinced that he was right, he became sternly immovable. He refused to take snap judgment, but when conscience had revealed the truth to him, there was no faltering in his adherence. When truth spoke to his soul and pointed out the path of duty, he was obedient and loyal and resolute. At such a time the great force of his character was displayed. Early in life he fixed his faith upon the foundation laid in Christ Jesus, and thereon, with all his consecrated powers, he built. In "Eldon Drayton," he says: "Don't question your experience. Don't question God's truth. Don't consent to debate eternal realities," and in these words we glimpse the certainty of his faith and the finality with which truth was accepted by him.

His life and work attest his loyalty to the Church. He knew its history and gloried therein. He held that from its foundation, God had been in it and with it. He loved its traditions, and he gloried that he had been called to dedicate his life to its flaming altar. His heart went out to his brethren in great affection. Years of association and fellowship felt only love in his heart, and as one by one, friends who had long stood by him on the battle line, entered into rest, he spoke his love and grief with rare beauty and depths. By his long and faithful service he himself has taken a place in that company of strong souls whose devotion and saintly lives have borne the banner of our Church beyond the frontiers of evil and driven back the powers of darkness.

Dr. Stokes never seemed to grow old or to stop growing. Until the end came he was vitally interested in every phase of the work of the Church and State. The events of each day were food for his uneared mind and spirit. Even when broken in health and forced to retire from his work, he was keenly alert and active.

In December, 1921, he went to the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. J. Sifford, at Lincolnton, N. C., where he hoped to retard the fatal disease that was upon him. At that time he wrote: "I am going to a new school now, that of patient waiting. I am trying to be a good pupil." Not even death could take him unaware! It was his great hope that he might be spared to see in the flesh his beloved son, Marion, who from the far fields of Korea, was hastening to his father's side. But this meeting on earth was not permitted. On March 2, 1922, the servant of God received the summons of his Great Captain. Obediently he learned his last lesson—that death may delay but cannot prevent the cherished hope of a longed for reunion, and strong in the immortal hope that the meeting yet would be, he entered calmly into the presence of his Lord.

To loved ones left there is the glory of his life, the richness of his service, and the sweet memory of a radiant soul who "Scarce had need to slough the dross of earth" before he entered the house of his Father.

"When school is out, I shall go home," he said,
And all my heartaches shall be comforted.

'When school is out,' he said, 'once more I'll rest
My tired head upon my mother's breast
And feel her tender cheek against mine pressed.

'Life's lessons all are learned,' he said,
And 'school is out.' We bent—and he was dead."

J. M. ARIAIL.

REV. SIDI BROWN HARPER

Sidi Browne Harper, the eldest son of George M. and Anne Browne Harper, was born in Anderson County, South Carolina, November 16, 1875, and fell on sleep in the city of Charleston, S. C., March 4, 1922. Brother Harper was of good Methodist stock, his parents being faithful members of our Church. On the maternal side, he was a nephew of Rev. Sidi Browne (for whom he was named) once a leading member of this Conference, now of sainted memory.

The writer of this paper was too close to the deceased for perspective. We were too near to each other for me to unwind easily our relations and associations and give voice to the impressions he made upon me ,for, like David and Jonathan, "Our hearts were knit together." This close relationship was known and respected by our brethren of the Conference. Please permit me to draw one item from that intimacy. It was desired by us, that the memoir of the first one fallen, should be read by the survivor. This leads me to say that he could beautifully magnify the little I have tried to do for my Lord, were he standing in my place. Yet with his life so rich in service, so beautiful and pure in character, how cold and dull sound the feeble words I use in trying to tell of what he did and how he lived.

Brother Harper early felt the call to preach, being greatly helped in this direction by a lady who was at that time leader of the Juvenile Missionary Society of St. John's Church, Anderson, of which society he was a member in early childhood. The name of the lady I have forgotten, but her work and influence in this case was destined to grow into great proportions. In preparation for his life work, after attending the schools at home, he went three years to Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., and one year to Vanderbilt University. He was licensed to preach in the Danville District, Kentucky Conference in 1893. In 1896 he was given work as junior preacher of Buncombe Street Church, Greenville, S. C., Rev. J. W. Kilgo being preacher in charge. He was admitted on trial into the Conference December, 1896, and appointed to the City Mission, Anderson, as junior preacher, Rev. W. R. Richardson, pastor of St. John's, being preacher in charge. He spent four years here, and from a weak Mission of 67 members, it grew to a self-supporting Church of 265 members. Since that time his appointments have been as follows: Student Vanderbilt University, 1901; Grand St. Helena Montana, 1902-3 and ____. Returning to the South Carolina Conference he was appointed to Duncan and Saxon 1904-5; Buford Street, Gaffney, 1906-7-8-9; Marion, where our Conference is now sitting, 1910-11-12-13; Bethel, Charleston, 1914-15-16-17; Central, Florence, 1918-19; Presiding Elder of the Charleston District, 1920-21. After a severe physical breakdown he took the superannuated relation at the session of our Conference one year ago. These were the appointments he served. Let us look a moment at some of his Conference activities. He was a member of the Conference Board of Church Extension 1907-10; on the Examining Committee for the second year 1907-10; a member of the Board of Missions 1911-19; four years of this time its treasurer, three years its secretary, two years its president, and one year Conference Secretary of Missions. For two years preceding his death he was a member of the General Board of Missions. In addition to these, from 1914 until the time of his death, he was a member of the Board of Trustees of Columbia College.

There are many evidences of his success at each appointment, but the two outstanding marks are the payment of a $56,000 debt on Central Church, Florence, and the leadership in the planning and building of this beautiful Church in which we are now meeting. As a preacher he sought for and delivered in the power of the Holy Spirit the pure and simple principles of the Gospel. The realm of the speculative and the argumentative had very little appeal for him. He dwelt upon the fundamental principles of salvation by faith in Jesus Christ as the Son of God and the Saviour of the world. This Saviour was real to him, and he endeavored to make Him a real Saviour to his hearers. He was, therefore, an effective and a popular preacher. As a pastor he had no superior in our Conference, and very few peers. It was here that his personal example and careful oversight drew his people to his Lord. He was never too busy or too tired to visit the afflicted, the sorrowing or the troubled. By the reading of Goodell's Pastoral and Personal Evangelism, which he said revolutionized his life, he caught a fresh inspiration, and with redoubled efforts he gave himself unstintingly and untiringly to his pastorate. It was said by one who knew him well, that he felt a personal responsibility for the sins of his people, and no expression can give a better idea of his careful love for them.

It would not hinder our work if more of us had at least a kindred feeling. I need not only say that he loved his people, but also that this love was reciprocated, as an evidence of this fact, his body lies buried in the Churchyard of Bethel, Charleston, where lie the remains of others faithful to Methodism in the City by the Sea. This was done at the request of a congregation he had served four years as pastor and two years as Presiding Elder.

On January 4, 1904, Brother Harper was married to Miss Lula Brown of McCormick, S. C. To them have been born three children, Anne Catherine, George Brown and Sidi Browne, Jr., all of whom, with their mother, are living. As the Heavenly Father directed him in his work, so He directed these two people in their marriage, for to friends and acquaintances it appeared that no such union is made save by our Heavenly Father. Side by side they walked for eighteen years, each the complement of the other. I was often in that home and witnessed the devotion and tenderness of father, mother and children to each other. Surely it was a home on earth somewhat approaching like that in heaven.

We roomed together at Conference for the past ten years, we went on vacation trips together, we worked together often, we visited each other frequently, so I know whereof I speak when I say he was pure in speech here, in deed and surely he was pure in thought.

He loved his fellowman, he loved his friends, he loved his home, he loved his Church and he loved his Lord, and his Lord gave him the peace that passeth all understanding.

C. C. DERRICK.

REV. DANIEL HAMER EVERETT

In the life and ministry of Brother Everett we have an illustration of humble fidelity and consecration to the service of our Master.

We have also in his early life an illustration of indecision, hesitation and even refusal, for a time, to do what he knew well was the will of God concerning him.

When he was converted in 1884, at the age of nineteen, he knew God wanted him to preach, but he declined to be lead of the Spirit, and "rebelled against the Spirit, which resulted in a loss of his hold on God and a decline in his religious life." How many men, by thus refusing to enter promptly a co-partnership with God in the work of establishing His kingdom on earth, lose, not only their personal experience for a season, but also the time and opportunity for proper preparation for the work they are to do later in life.

He was called in 1884 and answered in 1892, when he was licensed to preach by the Quarterly Conference of Blenheim Circuit.

Between these years, for a period, he was attending school and college. One year in the preparatory department of Wofford College and later he attended Trinity College in Durham, N. C., for a year and a half.

It was in a time of great affliction that he turned back to God and was reclaimed in 1891. After he received his license in 1892, he served as local preacher till 1906, when he was received on trial into the South Carolina Conference at Columbia, S. C., Bishop A. W. Wilson being President of the Conference.

On March 27, 1889, he was married to Miss Annie Campbell of Bennetts-ville, S. C., who, with one daughter, Annie Clare (Mrs. R. D. Walker), survives him. He thus came to the conference a married man, and at the age of 41 years. This, however, was not too late for him to give fifteen years of faithful and earnest service to the Conference, the Church and his God. How much a man with a devoted Christian wife, can do in fifteen years, only God can tell. He was ordained local Deacon in 1897 and local Elder in 1906.

During his membership in the Conference he served the following charges: Liberty Circuit, Clyde Circuit, Gallivants Circuit, Latta Circuit, Black River Circuit, Bethel Circuit, Floyd Dale Circuit. At the Conference at Georgetown two years ago he was appointed to serve Cades Circuit, but in the spring of that year he had to give up his work on account of declining health. In June he went to a hospital in Greenville County seeking for help. About the middle of January, 1922, he returned to the home of his daughter near Bennettsville, and after two months he passed away March 14, 1922.

Brother Everett was the son of Elijah and Martha Ann Hamer Everett, and was born June 22, 1865, in Richmond County, North Carolina.

WALTER I. HERBERT.

REV. HENRY JENNINGS CAUTHEN

1871-1922.

Henry Jennings Cauthen was born in Lowndesville, S. C. When his father was pastor there, Nov. 15, 1871, and died in a parsonage in the city of Charleston while he was pastor there, August 11, 1922. His father, Andrew Cauthen, of the South Carolina Conference, was married early in life to Miss Elizabeth Beckham. The Cauthens and Beckhams were leading families in Lancaster County, so Henry was of fine Methodist stock. He was brought up in a Methodist parsonage and was educated under the auspices of his own Church, graduating at Wofford College with the degree of A. B., and afterwards studying in the theological department of Vanderbilt University

He taught school for a short while in the county of his ancestors, but early in December, 1894, joined the South Carolina Conference, in which he served faithfully and acceptably until his recent death. The following were his appointments, with his length of service at each: Blacksburg, one year; Cheraw, one year; Timmonsville, two years; Kingstree, three years; North Augusta, two years; York, two years, Walterboro, four years; Georgetown, four years; Darlington, four years, and was serving Trinity, Charleston, his second year when he died.

These are the salient facts of an uneventful life. After my retirement from the active ministry, he was my pastor for two years at York, S. C., and for more than a year in Charleston. I claim to have known him quite well, and to have known about his work, the methods of it and the style and quality of it.

He always showed me great consideration and defference, such consideration and defference as an old preacher enjoys from a younger brother, a son in the Gospel. He appreciated my appreciation of his service and work. When I first heard him preach years ago I wrote to his father my estimate of his preaching and of his promise of usefulness, but in later years I personally thanked him for his service, and spoke discriminately of his preaching.

He was strikingly gifted for pulpit work, a handsome man, becomingly and neatly dressed, of attractive appearance, master of an almost perfect extemporaneous style of delivery. a well finished workman that needed not to be ashamed. He went well prepared into the pulpit generally to meet a large and expectant congregation. He was an instructive and edifying preacher that did not overshoot the mark by an effort at ambitious pulpit oratory. He was not a model pastor in the usual and proper use of the term, but he was careful to give attention to the invalid and sick members of his congregation.

He was very attractive and personally popular as he met men on the street, and at their places of business, and was at times their companion in manly sports and recreations. He was always the Christian gentleman in his relation to the community where he lived and which he served. He was gifted as a writer of good English, and was elected by his Conference to report their proceedings to the daily secular press.

He would have made a successful editor if he had chosen journalism as a profession. Though not a close student, he was widely read, and was fond of good books. He had collected an excellent library, and quite a large one for an itinerant pastor. He lies buried at Darlington, S. C., by his son, Pembroke, who died in infancy, and also his son Andrew, a greatly beloved and promising young man who was killed by an automobile accident April 19, 1920.

Possibly he could not have been buried in any community where he was more respected and loved, and where his death was more universally regretted. While he was a youthful pastor at Timmonsville, he was married to Miss Mary Finlayson, who, with four children, survive him. He died in his early prime, at a time when it seems to us he was greatly needed. We do not repine, least of all, we do not complain. Our Heavenly Father knows best and does right. Glory to his holy name.

REV. WILLIAM AUGUSTUS MASSEBEAU

The subject of this sketch, Rev. William Augustus Massebeau was born in Spartanburg County, South Carolina, in 1866. His parents were Rev. John B. and Jalie Alexander Massebean. His father being an itinerant Methodist preacher, he received his early education in the schools of the State. In the fall of 1883 he entered Wofford College, and there he remained for three years, dropping out for two years that he might teach school to secure funds to enable him to complete his college course. He returned to Wofford in the fall of 1888, and graduated in the class of 1889. On leaving college he began to teach school again. He taught two years at Spring Hill, in old Sumter, now Lee County, and two years as principal of Hebron Academy, in Darlington County. The writer well remembers when, on his first circuit, the bounds of which touched the territory of Spring Hill school, hearing the folk tell of the great transformation wrought in that whole community by the lives and influence of two young men, one of whom was a young Methodist preacher, Rev. Peter Stokes, and the other a young school teacher. This teacher was the subject of this sketch, William Augustus Massebeau. Sunday afternoon, September 17, 1922, when the writer received a telegram announcing the death of Brother Massebeau, there was present one of his old pupils in the Spring Hill school, and the writer turned and handed him the message. After reading the message, the first words of this old pupil of his was: "He was the best teacher and the best man I ever knew." Of the pupils in this school, there are now five or six men in the active ministry in this State.

Brother Massebeau was licensed to preach while living in the bounds of the old Darlington Circuit, in 1892. He served part of the year 1893 as supply and junior preacher under the late Rev. J. E. Rushton, on the Rome Circuit. In December, 1893, he, with L. L. Bedenbaugh, J. A. Campbell, T. G. Herbert and Peter Stokes, was admitted on trial in the South Carolina Conference. He was ordained Deacon by Bishop Galloway in 1895, and Elder by Bishop W. W. Duncan in 1897. He served the following charges:

Ridgeville, 1893-1897; Union, 1897-1901; Greenwood, 1901-1905; Central, Spartanburg, 1905-1907; Buncombe Street, Greenville, 1907-1911; Presiding Elder, Florence District, 1911-1915; St. Paul, Orangeburg, 1915-1919; Presiding Elder, Kingstree District, 1919-1920; Johnsonville Circuit, 1920-1922

Brother Massebeau represented the South Carolina Conference in the General Conference of 1914. He took an active interest in all that looked to the advancement of his Church and Conference. While pastor at Greenwood he had a large part in helping to move Lander College from Williamston to its present site in Greenwood. He ,with others who were interested in higher education for girls, helped to raise the funds which went into the building of this substantial and modern plant. His interest in Lander never lagged. At the time of his death he was an active member of the Board of Trustees of this institution.

As a man, he was a true Christian gentleman. As a preacher, his congregation will bear testimony to the fact that he never preached a poor sermon. He never went into the pulpit with an apology, for he always had a well prepared sermon. His sermons were always timely, and in a peculiar way, always filled the needs of the people. He was a strong evangelistic preacher, and many souls were brought to God, and into the Church by his ministry. He was a close student of the Word of God, and the very best books he could find. He read widely, both old and new books. He kept abreast of the times. With it all, he never swerved from the fundamentals of the realization of our fathers. He was ever conscious of the presence and power of Jesus Christ, the Son of God, as his Saviour and helper. He delighted to preach on the fundamentals of our religion. The writer well remembers when, for two years he was first associated with Brother Massebeau, hearing him speak of having gone to Chicago University for a summer course. He would say: "There was much there that might appeal to the mind of man, but in the old fundamentals alone could the soul of man find satisfaction."

As a pastor, he ever looked well after the flock to whom he was sent to minister. He carefully and systematically visited from house to house, and his visits were a benediction and a blessing to the homes he entered. He looked well after the sick and sorrowing ones. He gave to the humblest thoughtful care and consideration.

As a Presiding Elder he was a true leader. He gave his best in thought, time and effort. He succeeded in getting the men in his district to pull together. The humblest man in his district felt that in him he had one to whom he could appeal, and one who would do his best to help him solve his problems.

Brother Massebeau was a friend in the truest sense of the word, to his brethren in the Conference. It can truly be said of him that he loved them every one. His younger brethren knew that in him they had a friend on whom they could rely, and in whom they could confide and trust.

The writer was intimately associated with him for twenty-three years, and he never heard him say aught against his brethren. In fact, never a harsh word about any one. Though he faced the trials and vexations common to men, yet not a single one of us ever saw him when he could not smile. He was as gentle and as modest as a woman, he had very strong and positive convictions, and put forth every effort to live up to them at all times.

In 1890 he was married to Miss Rosa Olivia Carson. She has been to him a true and helpful helpmate. To them were born six girls and one boy, three girls dying in infancy. The following, with his devoted wife, survive: Mrs. Clyde Carter of Chester, S. C., Mrs. Thurston Boland of Springfield, S. C., Miss Frances and W. A. Massebeau, Jr., and two sisters, Mrs. Doc Able and Mrs. J. D. Jones.

On Sunday morning, September 17, 1922, his pure soul departed this earth. Brother Massebeau often expressed to the writer the desire that if it was God's will for him, that he would prefer to die in harness. He dreaded the thought that the time might come when he might be a burden on the Conference. He died as he wished, among a people that he could call his own, and who lived and administered to his every wish. Monday morning, September 18th, before a large congregation of sorrowing relatives and friends, his funeral was conducted in the Johnsonville Methodist Church by the writer, assisted by Rev. L. L. Bedenbaugh, Rev. B. J. Guess, Rev. W. A. Beckham, Rev. Geo. K. Way, Rev. D. N. Busbee and the pastor of the Baptist Church of Johnsonville. The following day his body was laid to rest in Chester, S. C. Our friend and brother had served faithfully and well. He has answered the roll call above. We join today in one united chorus, saying, "Well done, good and faithful friend."

"Servant of God, well done;
Thy glorious warfare's past;
The battle's fought, the race is won,
And thou art crowned at last.
Redeemed from earth and pain,
O, when shall we ascend;
And all in Jesus' presence reign,
With our translated friend."

REV. DANIEL D. DANTZLER

Prepared by Robt. E. Stackhouse.

Read by G. P. Watson.

It is easy enough to record the dates that place metes and bounds on the probationary existence of a human life, or that measure in exact chronological terms the space of such sacred human relations as those on which the home is built, or even so divine a vocation as that of the Christian ministry, but let it be thoroughly understood that there are no words in the vocabularies of earth that can represent the worth and the greatness of a human life, that is spent in walking with God, and there are no calculations in the mathematics of time that can properly appraise the value to the kingdoms of this world as well as the world to come, of a God-called and Heaven-annointed ministry, devoted to the work of bringing other lives into harmony and fellowship with God.

But such was the character and such the life work of this brother beloved, Daniel D. Dantzler, to whose memory we pause today to pay tribute.

Born February 3, 1842, and dying November 17, 1922, the period of this good man's earthly pilgrimage was nearly eighty-one years. Licensed to preach in August, 1871, and entering the South Carolina Conference in December of the same year, the period covered by his ministry, was fifty-one years—twenty-seven in the active itinerant ranks and twenty-four as a superannuate. But practically his entire life was devoted to Christian service. Converted and joining the Church at the age of fifteen, in very early manhood, he began to serve on the Providence Circuit in the capacities of class and song leader, and synchronous with these first attempts at public Christian service was the conviction that God was moving him to enter the wider service.

At the age, however, when he should have entered college, the Civil War called him into the service of his country, but to intimate friends he sometimes related how, on going into battle, there would come to him the inescapable presentiment, "You will not be killed, for you must yet preach the Gospel." The war over, his impressions concerning the ministry deepened, which conviction he sought to evade on the ground that his education had been cut off, but when he at last yielded he described his experience as "like a burst of sunlight at midnight."

Though his equipment was only that of the common schools of his youth, his natural mentality was of a high order. He read and mastered the best books, and by making diligent use of the opportunities afforded by that remarkable school, the Methodist Itinerancy, he not only became one of the best informed men in the Conference, but was possessed of culture in the truest and finest sense. His method of preaching was usually textual, but occasionally he did expository preaching of a high and edifying order. He was a clear, analytical thinker, and if one of the tests of good preaching be the persistence with which the analysis of the text and the outlines of the argument linger in memory, then D. D. Dantzler was an unusual preacher, because now, after the lapse of more than thirty years since this writer waited on his ministry for a year, he could reproduce the outlines of many of the sermons heard then.

He was also a sympathetic and tactful pastor, who systematically visited from house to house and ever dealt with the souls committed to his care as a shepherd conscious of the fact that he was finally to give account to the Chief Shepherd and Bishop of Souls at His appearance. And the inevitable result of such preaching and pastoral fidelity on the part of one truly called of God to this work was that hundreds were converted and wisely nurtured until they were meet for their inheritance in the Eternal City.

It was to this faithful minister of Jesus Christ, who was at that time his pastor, that this writer first shyly confided the secret of his conviction of a call to the ministry, and surely no young preacher ever had a wiser, safer or more helpful counselor. And to him it was also given to take other young men by the hand and lead them into the white harvest fields ,to which the Lord of the harvest Himself was opening the gates.

Brother Dantzler's Conference appointments were as follows: Junior preacher, Cokesbury Circuit, 1872; junior preacher Newberry Circuit, 1873; Yorkville Station, 1874; Orangeburg Circuit, 1875-1877; Spring Hill Circuit, 1878; Darlington Circuit, 1879-1881; Camden Station, 1882; Chester Circuit, 1883; Johnston Circuit, 1884-1886; Little Rock Circuit, 1887; Clio Circuit, 1888; Providence Circuit, 1889-1892; Prosperity Circuit, 1893; St. Matthews Circuit, 1894-1897; Batesburg Circuit, 1898.

His health having failed he was superannuated at the Conference of 1898, and took up his residence at Orangeburg, but he did not give over such service to the Church he loved so well, as his strength enabled him to render.

For many years he was Secretary of the St. Paul's Board of Stewards, and counted it the joy of his life to conduct service for the prisoners in the county jail every Sunday afternoon that his health permitted. He also carried comfort to the bereaved and good cheer to the discouraged and radiated so much sunshine in every circle that his sanctified personality touched that he was long recognized as one of the first and most influential citizens of the city.

Although retired from active ministry he could say with William Newton Clark:

"Gone they tell me is youth,
Gone is the strength of my life;
Nothing remains but decline,
Nothing but age and decay.

Not so; I am God's little child, Only beginning to live; Coming the days of my prime, Coming the strength of my life, Coming the vision of God, Coming my bloom and my power."

Modesty, humility, gentleness, unselfishness and sincerity were beautiful and outstanding traits of his noble character, and as is always the case when such a man comes to the end, "privileged far beyond the common walks of life is the chamber where the good man meets his fate." All through the last night of his illness he was repeating sections of the 103rd Psalm that had always been very dear to him, and the next day quietly and peacefully as an infant falls asleep, he was not, for God had taken him.

Brother Dantzler was married three times: First, to Miss Susan E. Crum, who bore him one daughter, now Mrs. Claude Williams of Asheville, N. C. His second marriage was to Miss Mary Frances Goggans, who left four children, Herbert D., Lehr L., Daniel C. and Emily, who is Mrs. Otis Page of Pickens. His last wife was Miss Ruth E. Evans, who, with the children mentioned, mourn the loss of one who was on earth so true and pure, but who, with all the Christian brotherhood, know where to find him in the more perfect nome that our ascended Lord is now preparing for us.

BISHOP HENRY CLAY MORRISON, D.D.

Bishop Henry Clay Morrison, D. D., had a worthy line of ancestry. His paternal ancestors came from Scotland, and their names are not unknown to history. From Scotland they came to North Carolina, and from thence they moved to Tennessee, the native State of the subject of our sketch. Andrew Wells was one of the settlers of French Lick, where the city of Nashville now stands. Mr. Wells' two daughters were Nancy and Elizabeth. Nancy Wells was married to Josiah Morrison and their eldest son, Robert, was the father of Henry Clay Morrison. Bishop Morrison's maternal grandfather was Capt. Colmore Duvall, a native of Virginia. Captain Duvall married a lady from Maryland and later he and his wife moved to Clarksville, Tenn. Their daughter, Mary Duvall, was married to Robert Morrison in 1834. To this couple ten children were born, one of these was Henry Clay Morrison, whose life and labors we briefly chronicle in this sketch. In 1857 Robert Morrison moved to Graves County, Kentucky, and later to the city of Paducah, where he lived till the close of his life at the age of seventy-seven years.

Bishop Henry Clay Morrison, D. D., was born near Clarksville, Tenn., May 30, 1842. He was converted at Baker's Camp Ground, about fourteen miles from Clarksville, on August 6, 1856, when he was scarcely more than fourteen years of age. Some time during the year 1857 he moved with his parents to Logan County, Kentucky, in which State he spent nearly thirty years of his long and useful life.

The educational advantages of young Morrison were quite limited, but he made the most of them, and at nineteen years of age he was granted license to teach a common English school. In that work he rendered faithful and successful service for about two years.

On April 4, 1863, at a Conference held in Pleasant Hill Church, in Ballard County, Kentucky, he was licensed to preach, and began at once the fruitful ministry which continued for fifty-nine years.

Bishop Morrison's first service as an itinerant minister was in the capacity of junior preacher on the Clinton Circuit, in association with Rev. J. W. Flatt, who was the preacher in charge. He had scarcely entered upon this work, however, when he felt constrained to join the Confederate army for any service he might be able to render. Accordingly he rode away to Tupelo, Mississippi, where he joined the Eighth Kentucky Regiment under command of Col. A. R. Shackett, in the Brigade of Gen. N. B. Forrest. Without formal commission and without salary, he was made Chaplain of the regiment, in which capacity he served most efficiently to the end of the war, loved and trusted by both officers and privates. When peace was declared he went from the army to the Logan Circuit, in the Louisville Conference, as junior preacher under Rev. H. C. Lebbte, D. D., although he was not then a member of the Conference.

In September, 1865, the Louisville Conference was held at Russellville, Kentucky, under the presidency of Bishop H. H. Kavanaugh, D. D. At this time young Morrison was received on trial into the traveling connection, and was appointed to Millerstown Circuit, a pastorate covering all of Hart, Grayson and Hardin Counties. His health was not robust, but he did his work so well that wonderful results crowned his labors, consequently his advancement in the Conference was rapid. He was a member of the Louisville Conference for twenty-one years, serving with great success many of its most conspicuous and influential pastoral charges.

In the autumn of 1886, Dr. Morrison was transferred to the North Georgia Conference and stationed at First Church, Atlanta, in which pastorate he remained until May, 1899, when he was elected one of the Missionary Secretaries by the General Conference, which met, in St. Louis, Mo. During his twenty-five years in pastoral work, his ministry was characterized by great spiritual power and rewarded by almost continual revivals of religion.

The two Annual Conferences to which Dr. Morrison belonged honored and trusted him. He was a delegate from the Louisville Conference to the General Conferences of 1882, 1886 and 1898, and he was a delegate from the North Georgia Conference to the General Conferences of 1890 and 1894.

He served as Missionary Secretary from 1890 to 1898, during which time he greatly distinguished himself by raising $172,000.00 for the discharge of a debt upon the General Board of Missions,, a most remarkable achievement, considering the financial stress of those years.

At the General Conference held in Baltimore, May, 1898, Dr. Morrison was elected Bishop, in which exalted position he rendered twenty years of laborious and faithful service. After these years of valuable service, he asked for the superannuate relation at the General Conference held in Atlanta, Ga., May, 1918, and his request was granted. The speech he made when he requested superannuation was a remarkable deliverance, bearing the unmistakable evidence of the deep spirituality that ever characterized the personality back of it. He passed to his heavenly reward from his home in Leesburg, Fla., December 20, 1921. His tired and wasted body was borne by loving hands to its burial in West View Cemetery, Atlanta, Ga., on December 22nd.

Bishop Morrison was a man of strong convictions, pure life, and unfaltering consecration. His native gifts were of a high order, and he expended them with undivided heart and in unstinted measure in the service of Christ and the Church.

The afternoon of Bishop Morrison's life had some clouds that overshadowed the path. This was due to the fact that men misunderstood his motives and misconstrued his activities. We are all exposed to the peril of being misunderstood and the tragedy of not knowing. But the evening of his life was radiant.

Let his own words tell us of the sunset:

"I know that the evening shadows are lengthening, but at the evening time it is light. Every glittering star is jewelled with a joy, and some of my fondest earthly hopes that perished in their bloom will ere long be changed to an eternal fruition. When I lay aside my ministerial robes I shall sadly miss many delightful and sacred associations with my brethren. But the ties of friendship will not be broken. Its golden links, welded by the eternal Hand, will reunite our souls in that land into whose splendors there come no parting and no night."

BISHOP JOHN CARLISLE KILGO, D.D., LL.D.

It is with peculiar gratification that the South Carolina Conference lays claim to Bishop John Carlisle Kilgo, D. D., L.L. D., as one of its contributions to the great men of the nation. John Carlisle Kilgo, son of Rev. and Mrs. James T. Kilgo, was born in the Methodist parsonage at Laurens, S. C., July 22, 1861. During his boyhood days he attended such schools as the itinerant system at that time made available. Having received his preparatory training in these public schools, he entered Wofford College, Spartanburg, S. C., where he spent two years.

He joined the South Carolina Conference at the session held in 1882, and was married about the same time to Miss Fannie H. Turner, of Gaffney, S.C., who survives him. Besides his widow, Bishop Kilgo is survived by the following children: James L. Kilgo, of Greenville, N. C.; Mrs. Kope Elias, Jr., Mrs. Bailey T. Groome, and John C. Kilgo, Jr. Two brothers and one sister also survive. Rev. James W. Kilgo, D. D., Rev. Pierce F. Kilgo, and Mrs. John Campbell.

From the beginning of his career John C. Kilgo was a strong preacher. The warmth and brilliance that characterized his early ministry contained the prophecy of an unusual career. Old men wondered how a mere boy preacher could speak with such boldness and confidence. The secret of his impressive manner lay in his deep and abiding conviction of a Divine call to preach. Where this overpowering conviction of a Divine call is consciously realized the note of authority is ever present in the voice and manner of the preacher. Young Kilgo's confidence was the result of an absolute conviction of the truth of the Gospel, the certainty of the promise of the help of the Holy Spirit, and the clear call of God.

The remarkable gifts of the young preacher were soon recognized and brought into requisition in the service of the Church. Brilliance of mind, eloquence of utterance, and deep religious experience combined to qualify him for the important work of an apostle of Christian education. At an early period of his ministry he was elected Financial Agent for Wofford College, and served in this capacity for six years with remarkable success. During the latter part of this period he occupied the chair of Philosophy. At the same time he completed the A. M. Course himself, receiving the degree in 1892.

In the meantime, the reputation of the young Professor Kilgo as teacher and agent spread rapidly into adjoining States. Accordingly, when Trinity College ,in North Carolina, wanted a President in 1894, the Trustees turned to Dr. John C. Kilgo as the Providential man. He went to Trinity College in 1894 and remained at the head of that institution until his election to the Episcopacy in 1910.

Dr. Kilgo's administration at Trinity College was one of remarkable success. During his connection with the college he saw its property increase from about three hundred thousand dollars to more than two millions of dollars. In co-operation with the faculty, President Kilgo raised the standard at the college even at the cost of losing patronage, and that at a time when patronage was greatly needed, and raised the institution to the place of an "A Grade" College in its curriculum. Bishop Kilgo's work, however, was not confined to Trinity College. He constantly traveled over the State of North Carolina, visiting Conferences and Churches and arousing the people to the vital importance of building and equipping the schools of their Church. Practically every Sunday he occupied some pulpit away from his home, and though he knew that he was literally burning himself out, he could not resist the many and urgent appeals that poured in upon him for sermons and lectures. President Kilgo was deeply interested in the religious life of the students, and during the winter of his second year at Trinity College, he conducted what was considered the greatest revival the institution ever had. It is said that professors and students were deeply moved and were melted into fervent devotion, the whole community glowing with a holy enthusiasm like that of the old camp meeting days.

Bishop Kilgo truly loved the Methodist Church and gave himself wholly to its service. Had he chosen the lecture field he could easily have increased his reputation and could have made a fortune for himself. His ardent devotion to the Church grew out of the fact that it was the object of the sacrifice and devotion of Jesus Christ, who to Bishop Kilgo was supreme Saviour and Lord.

The secret of Bishop Kilgo's power lay not in those wonderful qualities of personality that made him a striking figure in any company, but it lay rather in his remarkable religious experience, which dominated the splendid genius of his superior mind.

Bishop Kilgo was indeed one of the great men of his day. He was one of the peculiarly positive characters with whom men must reckon. His convictions were strong and his statement of them clear and unmistakable. His personality and manner were such that men could not occupy a neutral attitude toward him; they had to be either his loyal friends or severe critics. His strength of conviction amounted almost to dogmatism. Some men were as devoted to him as if bound by hooks of steel; others were repelled from him as if separated by bitter antagonism.

Bishop Kilgo read great books and kept in touch with the great minds of his own age, and of all ages. He had a perfect contempt for superficial thought and shallow literature. His special book was the Bible. His vivid imagination delighted in its scenes and his soul enjoyed mystical fellowship with its exalted characters. At times when preaching upon these scenes or characters he was able to carry his hearers with him into the sublimest heights of spiritual delectation, and his eloquence at such times became overwhelming.

Bishop Kilgo was granted the superannuate relation by the General Conference last May. Though in great feebleness of body, he attended that Conference. On his way home he had a severe attack and it was thought at one time that he would not live to reach his home. He rallied, however, and made the trip, but never recovered. He died at his home in Charlotte, N. C., August 11, 1922. Friends from far and near attended his funeral, which was conducted by Bishop Warren A. Candler, D. D., L.L. D., Bishop Collins Denny, D. D., L.L. D., and others.

Bishop Kilgo was devoted to the older men of the Conference in his day. Among his favorites were the heroic and honored Thomas J. Clyde and Paul F. Kistler.

What a glorious meeting that must have been when these giants who had previously gone beyond the shadow, welcomed John C. Kilgo to the Father's House!
